LoopNet Inc. Installs AccuFACE Facial Recognition System

IRVINE, CA. – November 5, 2009 – Eaglemetric Corp. announced today that LoopNet Inc. (Nasdaq: LOOP), recently installed PSP Security's AccuFACE facial recognition reader in its Computer Server Room. This is the first AccuFACE system to be installed in a public company in the U.S. The simple facial registration process has been completed and registered LoopNet employees can now enter the facility without an identification card.

"The most popular suggestion among our employees was eliminating the need for ID cards." reports Chief Technology Office Wayne Warthen. "We feel that facial recognition is the fastest and most efficient alternative to identification cards. Authorized employees now have the convenience of accessing the facility without worrying about the risks of identify theft. We also like the ability to review the picture of any person attempting to access the server room without permission."

The AccuFACE facial recognition system is highly accurate and can identify a registered user in less than one second. As it is an embedded system, no additional software or dedicated computer is needed to manage the system. It was easily integrated into LoopNet's existing access control system with minimal effort.

Facial recognition offers an advantage over fingerprint biometric as it is a contactless solution. It mitigates the health risks associated with physical contact whereby viruses are spread (ex. SARS, H1N1, etc.) AccuFACE was designed with the future of technology and healthcare in mind.

For more information on AccuFACE, go to www.eaglemetric.com.

About LoopNet, Inc.
LoopNet, Inc. is the leading online marketplace for commercial real estate and businesses for sale in the United States. The LoopNet.com online marketplace enables commercial real estate agents, working on behalf of property owners and landlords, to list properties for sale or for lease by submitting detailed property listing information in order to find a buyer or tenant.

About Eaglemetric Corp.
Eaglemetric Corp. is an innovator in advanced technologies and provides biometric solutions which are highly accurate and efficient while still user-friendly and competitively priced.