

Chen & Fan Accountancy Corporation Installs AccuFACE Facial Recognition System

IRVINE, CA. – July 28, 2010 – Eaglemetric Corp. announced today that Chen & Fan Accountancy Corporation recently installed PSP Security's AccuFACE facial recognition reader for employee access to its corporate headquarters.

"We have a need to have records of our employees entering our facility and our employees do not like the idea of carrying an ID cards." reports Managing Partner Paul Chen. "We feel that facial recognition is the fastest and most efficient alternative to identification cards. Authorized employees now have the convenience of accessing the facility without worrying about the risks of identify theft. We also like the ability to have a photo log of any person attempting to access the facility without permission."

The AccuFACE facial recognition system is highly accurate and can identify a registered user in less than one second. As it is an embedded system, no additional software or dedicated computer is needed to manage the system. Facial recognition offers an advantage over fingerprint biometric as it is a contactless solution. Post Alarm Systems of Arcadia supported the installation and has been trained to install AccuFACE.
